Anand Warehouse

A two-hundred-year-old godown turned demanding contemporary-art space.

ABOUT

Anand Warehouse is a colonial-era godown in Mattancherry, and one of the venues for the main exhibition of the 2025-26 Kochi-Muziris Biennale. Its largest work in that edition was Parliament of Ghosts, which Ibrahim Mahama began in 2017. He covered the tall walls of one room with used brown jute sacks. The sacks were repaired by women workers from Mattancherry, and discarded chairs from public institutions were restored by local carpenters and set into a stepped seating area.
