ABOUT

Draavidia Arts Gallery sits beside the Customs Jetty at Kalvathy in Fort Kochi, open daily from 11am to 7pm. Its exhibitions change, and the walls hold different work from one visit to the next. The shows come from artists in Kerala and from elsewhere in India. The gallery calls itself the first gallery of contemporary art in Kochi. Its founder, the poet T. M. Shihab, set it up as a platform for artists working in many mediums. The gallery closed around the time of the first Kochi-Muziris Biennale.
