Vasco da Gama Square

The seafront walkway beside the Chinese fishing nets, and a Cochin Carnival venue.

ADDRESS Kunnumpuram Road, Fort Kochi

ABOUT

Vasco da Gama Square is the promenade along Fort Kochi Beach, beside the Chinese fishing nets. The nets are believed to have been introduced by Chinese traders, and you can watch fishermen operate them from the walkway. The nets stand on teak and bamboo poles, and the walkway runs along the beach beside them. Several food vendors at the square sell fresh seafood and tender coconut. An open stage on the promenade hosts cultural performances. The square is one of the festival's main venues.
